

COMPANY STATEMENT OF INTERURBAN WRECK

BLAME IS PLACED ON THE WEST BOUND CREW FOR COLLISION.

HAD ORDERS TO WAIT ON SIDING

Injured Man Is Improving Nicely—Damage to Rolling Stock Was Slight.

Ernest Struckman, the Sterling young man who was injured in the collision of interurban cars at the Lord's hill switch yesterday, is reported by his physician to be resting satisfactorily, and there is no immediate danger from his injuries. His pulse was stronger this morning and every indication is toward a speedy recovery.

The mix-up of the cars, while not disastrous, is the first real wreck in the history of the road, a record of which the successive managements may be proud. The management this morning issued the following statement concerning the collision:

Company's Statement. Motorman Flemming and Phillips left Dixon at 10:05 o'clock on their regular run, with implicit order from the superintendent to pass the special train from Sterling at Lord's hill.

The special, which was made up of a motor and two trailers, and in charge of Motorman Schaffer and Conductors Anderson and Forbes, was considerably delayed. After waiting at Lord's hill for some time Motorman Flemming and Phillips decided they would go on, notwithstanding the fact that they had received no instructions to this effect. They backed their car down onto the main line and about this time the special train from the west came down the grade at a reasonable rate of speed and fully within its rights, and as the motorman discovered the approaching train they endeavored to get back into the clear, where they had previously been, and should have remained until they received orders to move. They succeeded in getting their car nearly in the clear, but not enough to prevent the special from side-swiping them, which caused considerable injury to the motor cars and somewhat injuring a passenger, who insisted upon riding on the foot board of the open car outside the wire guard, after he had been warned by the conductor and passengers to keep inside. Consequently the damage to rolling stock and injury to people was slight.

Passenger's Report.

The Telegraph reporter last evening interviewed one of the passengers on the west bound car, and he stated that the crew did all in their power to get back into the clear and stated that had the trolley rope not broken the car undoubtedly would have been entirely out of the way.

This passenger stated that as the car was started back onto the switch to get out of the way of the on-coming special, the trolley flew off the wire and the rope broke, leaving the car without power. Conductor Phillips immediately climbed onto the top of the car and held the trolley against the wire until the collision occurred, thereby placing himself in a very dangerous position.

STARTS TWO $1000 DAMAGE SUITS

MILLER VS. SMITH AND HART CASE GOES TO JURY TODAY.

Edward Morrissey has filed in the Lee county circuit court through his attorneys, Wooster & Edwards, the praecipe for two damage suits of $1,000 each. The suits are against John Blackburn sr. and Hugh Blackburn. No declarations were filed in the cases, and consequently it is not known what the grounds are for the suits.

The case of Miller vs. Smith and Hart, which is on trial before the county court, will probably go to the jury before evening.

SEEING DIXON BY AUTOMOBILE

WILLIAM MALONEY CONTRACTS FOR MACHINE CARRYING TWELVE PEOPLE.

William Maloney has contracted for a large Rapid automobile, which will be delivered within ten days and which will be a credit to Dixon as it will undoubtedly be well patronized by the people of this vicinity. The car is one of twelve passenger capacity and will be used for sightseers, picnics, assemblies, fairs and for private automobile parties. The car is of the same kind as are used by the Mentor Auto Sightseeing company of Chicago, which concern has four 12-passenger and one 20-passenger cars. Mr. Maloney anticipates a profitable business in his new enterprise.

VENOMOUS RUMOR AIMED AT GIRL

MISS ALMA DREW OF PALMYRA DENIES STORY OF AN ELOPEMENT.

YOUNG LADY WITH HER PARENTS

Lockett, However, Has Flown—His Wife Says He Will Send For Her.

It transpires that Frank Lockett, the street car conductor who departed for parts unknown Saturday, did not elope with any woman, as has been reported, at least there is no adequate ground for such belief. The rumor that he was probably accompanied by Miss Alma Drew of Gap Grove was wholly unfounded as the statement that the young lady had disappeared is false. Miss Drew has been at home or in the vicinity all of the time since Saturday, and is now at the home of her parents.

The information that Mr. Lockett had disappeared came from an employee of the S. D. & E. with the additional information that it was believed the young lady was involved in the case.

Mrs. Lockett and Miss Drew were seen Wednesday morning and interviewed. The former lady says she has no idea where her husband is and has no idea when she will. She said that her husband left Sterling because he was unable to meet his obligations in a financial way. She says that he had often said that he would go away, but he promised if he did to send for her and the children as soon as he secured work. She spoke well of her husband and said he was kind to her and their children. He does not drink or gamble and during the time he was off duty was nearly always at home.

Miss Drew says she knew Lockett well and frequently talked to him when a passenger on his car, but not more than to several of the other employees of the road. The latter lady is justly indignant and says she will search out the author of the story and make it warm for him or her, as the case may be.

Mrs. Lockett and children left Sterling Wednesday for Milledgeville, where they will make their home for the present with Mrs. Lockett's mother.

DIXON ELKS WERE BEATEN YESTERDAY

The Dixon Elks baseball team met defeat at Aurora yesterday, by a score of 8 to 5. Barring one inning, the Dixon tribe had all the best of the going, but in that one round, the fourth, the Aurora bunch hammered out five runs, which turned the tide against the locals. Conley pitched three innings for Dixon and Edwards finished the game. Patrick was the man in the iron mask.

BOY NEARLY DIES FROM ADDER'S BITE

ARTHUR NELSON STEPS ON A SNAKE WHILE JUMPING CREEK.

WOUND TREATED AT FARM HOUSE

Quick Arrival of Physician Saves Life—For Few Minutes Was Stricken Blind.

Arthur, the thirteen year old son of Andrew Nelson, 821 Jackson avenue, section foreman on the C. & N. W. railway, while playing along the creek in Curran's pasture south of the Northwestern tracks, yesterday afternoon was bitten by a spotted adder and for a few hours it was feared that the lad would expire from the poison which had thoroughly permeated his body. After he was bitten he did not at first pay much attention to the injury and for a short time continued his sport with Elmer Peterson, a boy about his own age, of wading in the water. Soon, however, he became dreadfully ill, and he and the Peterson lad went to a farm house nearby where he was cared for and a physician called, who treated his injury, and soon after the treatment the young lad showed signs of improvement. This morning he was able to return home, walking all the way. His right foot, which was the target for the reptile, is still badly swollen. The boys were jumping across the creek and when young Nelson jumped he landed with his bare foot on the snake, which was coiled up in the grass on the bank of the stream. Young Peterson pulled the stinger from the foot.

Before the lad reached the farm house he was blind, and had to be led to the house. He staggered and fell several times while going through the barn yard, before his companion knew that he could not see.

The boy owes his life to the quick arrival of the physician, for when the doctor arrived his entire body was swollen and his foot was beginning to get black.

The lad is a carrier of the Evening Telegraph.

CLEVER SINGER AT THE STAR

LEW JACK WINNING FAVOR AT THE POPULAR PLAY HOUSE.

Lew Jack is making a hit this week with clever song and dance comedy and his acts are being favorably commented upon by the crowds that patronize this popular little theatre.

The management has recently arranged with a large film house and the pictures produced are the best obtainable.

This theatre has now been running under the management of W. G. Kent since last September and is becoming more popular every day. The performance consists of two illustrated songs, two thousand feet of film, usually four subjects, and a vaudeville turn consisting of humorous songs, dialogues, dancing, juggling and other entertaining acts. The whole entertainment lasts about an hour and is of a refined character, so that ladies and children are free to enjoy the show. The program is changed every Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Chicago, June 25—Fair to day and tomorrow; moderate temperature; winds becoming light and variable.

WIND STORM DOES DAMAGE AT HARMON

PLAYS HAVOC WITH TELEPHONE EQUIPMENT TREES AND BUILDINGS.

HORSE KICKS MAN ON HEAD

Capes Has One Hundred Acres of Fine Corn—Personal Mention of Harmon People.

Harmon, Ill., June 24—About ten o'clock Saturday night a severe wind and electrical storm passed over Harmon doing considerable damage to buildings, trees, telephone equipment and one horse was killed.

While apparently well protected on all sides by large trees and buildings the north porch of the Methodist parsonage was completely demolished.

Electricity followed the telephone wire into the residence of James S. Conklin, burnt the works of the telephone, set the adjoining woodwork afire and burnt the curtains of the window. A conflagration was narrowly averted.

Lightning struck a valuable mare owned by Constable John Drew. The death of the animal occurred Monday.

So severe was the electrical storm that nearly half the fuses in the central telephone office were burned out, trees were blown across wires, making it impossible to reach the outside world all day Sunday and most of Monday. Repairs found and remedied the most of the difficulties on Sunday.

The rain accompanying the storm was not heavy and was of considerable benefit to growing crops. The wind damaged the advanced oats a little.

Kicked on the Head.

Louis Herzog, section boss of the Burlington road here, has had considerable trouble extricating a colt from wire fences. Tuesday it again got tangled up and Mr. Herzog released the animal, which, as soon as it was free, turned around and kicked its owner, striking him with its hoof on the forehead, cutting a large gash over the eye.

Didn't Draw Well.

Without previous warning a vaudeville and moving picture show blew into town very early Monday morning. A few quarter-sheet posters were tacked up, a bass drum secured from a local musician and the entertainers waited for the people to come out, which about sixty did.

The audience was fully as large as the show deserved.

Field of Fine Corn.

Elmer Capes of Hamilton township has a field of about 100 acres of corn, which so far, in this vicinity is concerned, not only takes the cake but the entire bakery. The field is a large one, the stalks are about six high and being cultivated the fourth and last time, the stalks being too high to allow another cultivation.

Personal Mention.

Charles Guggerty of the Kadon transacted business in Harmon on Tuesday.

Rev. Thomas Willstead was a Sterling visitor Tuesday.

Charles Merchant of Walnut was a Harmon visitor yesterday.

Miss Ina M. Kugler started Tuesday on a several weeks' visit, with friends and relatives in Cedar Rapids, Oskaloosa and Manson, Ia.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Long were in Dixon on business Tuesday.

Mrs. H. Johnson and her grandson, Lynn Purcell, departed yesterday morning for a couple of weeks' visit with Platt and Champaign county relatives and friends.

Mrs. Garner Osterhout of Sterling was the guest of Mrs. and Miss Dewey yesterday.

Henry Brill transacted business in Dixon yesterday.

Dr. Wm. Henry was a Sterling visitor on business yesterday. For the exercise, he walked there, returning on the freight.

Mrs. Wm. Kelchner and children are visiting in Milwaukee.

Ed F. Long was a caller on Amboy friends yesterday evening.

SUBLETTE.

Sublette, June 24—Farmers give favorable reports of the prospects of grass, oats and corn. The heavy rains were of short duration, so that the farm work was not seriously impeded.

Children's day exercises were held in the Congregational church Sunday afternoon. The audience room was well filled. Rev. Umbach preached there every two weeks, after having preached in Perkins Grove in the forenoon.

George Leftman, one of our hard ware merchants, now delivers some of his merchandise with an auto wagon.

Mr. Trenbower and Mrs. North, his sister, of Pennsylvania, have been visiting their nephew, Mr. Trenbower is 80 years old and announced that he was looking for a wife. Old Hawks like young chickens. Any young lady who wishes to remind him that this is leap year can probably obtain his address by writing Mr. Bottenfield and enclosing return postage.

There was a family reunion at the home of John Barton on Sunday. The father and mother were there; also George Patterson of Lancaster, Ky.; Mrs. Grace McLaren and her two daughters of Berea, Ky., and Trus Wilcox, wife and two daughters of Troy Grove.

While writing the foregoing an agent of the Internal Revenue bureau, called on the village druggist hoping to get a tax on the sale of liquor. A quarter century ago our druggists rebelled against having Uncle Sam call them retail liquor dealers, and have not sold a pint of liquor since the oppressive tax was paid.

PAID IN FULL.

The 8th week of the really astonishing engagement of Eugene Walker's play of 20th century American life, Paid in Full, is now current at the Grand Opera house, Chicago, and the third month of the run starts immediately.

When Paid in Full opened on May 10th the following competing attractions started against it, some of them a week later: Powers theatre, Twenty Days in the Shade; Garrick, The Gay White Way; Colonial, Joe Weber's Merry Widow; McVickers, Brewster's Millions; Illinois, Miss Hook of Holland; Studebaker, Elsie Janis. Not one of these attractions is now playing in Chicago, in fact one or two others have come and gone, among them being The Witching Hour, and Chrystal Herne at Powers theatre, and still Paid in Full runs on.

The wonderful attractiveness of Mr. Walters' play to all classes and conditions of people, in the east as well as in the west, is due to the fact that it is truly and without distortion or exaggeration according to Shakespeare's injunction and holds a mirror up to nature—not an imaginative or poetical nature, but real true human nature—the seething, struggling, heartless, erring, loving, many-sided nature of today. The author has made no effort to create types or to introduce unnecessary action. He has simply placed a lot of real people in natural situations and faithfully reproduced their lives. Incidentally and without preaching he shows in all its danger the great American evil, extravagance. Paid in Full is a lesson to anyone who is at all tempted to live beyond his means.

ILLINOIS POLITICS

By J. McCAN DAVIS
AUTHOR OF
"BREAKING OF THE DEADLOCK"
"ABRAHAM LINCOLN HIS BOOK"
"ORIGIN OF THE LINCOLN RAIL" ETC.

Special to the Telegraph:

Springfield, Ill., June 23—Those who attended the republican national convention in Chicago last week came home impressed with the utter failure of the convention oratory. In its results the convention appears to have been satisfactory to the great masses of the republican party of Illinois and elsewhere; but the convention speeches had nothing to do with these results. There were some good speeches, but no great ones. This was not wholly the fault of the orators; it was due to the circumstances attending the proceedings. There was but little occasion for oratory. For several months the nomination of Mr. Taft had seemed possible, and for two weeks at least it had been a foregone conclusion. With the main result thus settled, both the delegates and the gallery spectators were impatient for the ballot. They were in no mood to listen to long-winded speeches, which everybody knew would not change a single vote. The impatience was increased by the fact that the Coliseum in which the convention was held, is so cramped that only a fraction of those assembled could hear perfectly what was said from the platform.

Most of the orators made the mistake of not fitting their speeches to conditions. Instead of five or ten minutes, most of them insisted on occupying from thirty minutes to an hour. The nominating speeches for the most part, were mere biographies which one might read in the daily or weekly papers. Men of national reputation which have moved audiences on other occasions, made no impression on the convention. Governor Hanly of Indiana, one of the chautauqua favorites of the country, was a mere "joke" before he had finished his speech.

The national convention of 1908 was thus strikingly different from most of its predecessors. Some of the greatest speeches in the annals of American oratory have been delivered in national conventions. In 1876 Robert G. Ingersoll of Illinois "set the pace" for the convention orators. The national convention of that year was held in Cincinnati. The Illinois delegation went to the convention shouting for James G. Blaine, then in the zenith of his popularity. Bob Ingersoll, then a Peoria lawyer, was chosen to place Blaine in nomination. It is said that on the night before the nomination was to be made, Ingersoll, being asked what he intended to say, replied that he hadn't thought of the matter, and then about midnight sat down and hurriedly wrote out the speech which he delivered in the convention next day. It was a marvelous piece of oratory and it roused the convention to great enthusiasm. It was this speech that gave Blaine the title of the "plumed knight." "Like an armed warrior, like a plumed knight," said Ingersoll, "James G. Blaine marched down the halls of congress and threw his shining lance full and fair against the foreheads of the defamers of his country and the maligners of its honor. For the republican party to desert this gallant leader now is as though an army should desert their general upon the field of battle."

The brilliant speech of Ingersoll, however, failed to bring Blaine the presidential nomination. There were conditions and considerations of availability that made Rutherford B. Hayes of Ohio the standard bearer. But the speech of the orator from Illinois lived and has been equalled by few other speeches delivered since then in national conventions.

The power of speech was illustrated in the national convention of 1880, when James A. Garfield of Ohio, who came to the Chicago convention that year to nominate John Sherman, made a speech of such rare force and brilliancy that the convention ended the deadlock by making Garfield himself the nominee for president. Again in 1896, in the democratic national convention William J. Bryan, then almost unknown showed what may be achieved by a bit of oratory. Bryan there found his opportunity; he hit with rare good fortune upon the "psychological moment," and his speech carried the convention off its feet and made him the presidential nominee and gave him that place of leadership in the democratic party which he has held to this day.

But such results are rare. The orator and the psychological moment do not often appear simultaneously in national conventions. Take last week's convention, for instance. Taft had the nomination so thoroughly cinched that there was only one man in the country who could have beaten him—and that was the man who backed Taft's candidacy, Theodore Roosevelt. The demonstration for Roosevelt was one of the most remarkable episodes ever witnessed in a convention. If the movement to start a Roosevelt stampede had been so managed that an Ingersoll, a Garfield or a Dick Oglesby could have made an appeal to the convention, it is quite possible that Roosevelt would have found himself embarrassed with a nomination against all his protests. But the psychological moment passed without the orator, and Theodore Roosevelt breathed a sigh of relief.

SPORTING NOTES.

Sterling won from Kewanee again yesterday, score 8 to 0. Crangle, the man Dixon knocked the uniform off of last Sunday, did the pitching and allowed only four hits.

Wild Bill Donovan is after a record again in the American. He won five straight.

And the Sox lost their third straight yesterday to Cleveland, 6 to 0. St. Louis is now tied with them for the lead.

Reubach has returned to form. He won from St. Louis yesterday in ten innings, 2 to 1. He gave but two passes.

Clark Griffith has resigned the management of the New York Highlanders, believing that he is unlucky and that his bad luck has caused the team to meet reverses. Elberfeld has been placed in temporary charge of the team.

Wm. F. Trafley, once manager of the famous Baltimore Orioles, died at Des Moines, Ia., yesterday. Tuberculosis was the cause of his death.

Isabel has arrived in Chicago and will join the Sox in a few days.

Brown has returned to the Cubs, too.

After battling twelve innings on Tuesday, Freeport and Wausau kept it up yesterday and played sixteen innings. Freeport took revenge for their shutout the day before and won, 4 to 3. Miller got two hits and a run.

LaCrosse was bumped again yesterday, although they used three pitchers.

Vibration of Fly's Wings.

Recent measurements of the vibrations of the wings of a dragon fly in the Stuttgart university showed that they ranged from 10,000 to 12,000 a second. The common house fly makes 600 strokes of its wings a second when flying at its highest speed.

More proof that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saves women from surgical operations.

Mrs. S. A. Williams, of Gardiner, Maine, writes:

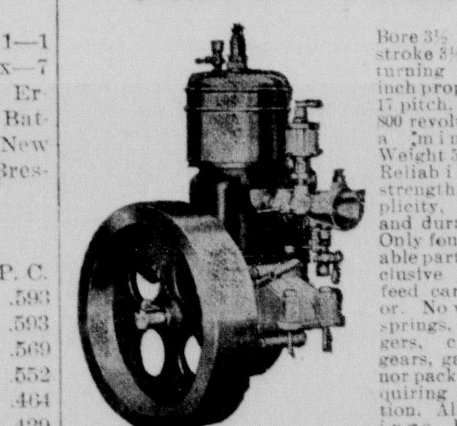

"I was a great sufferer from female troubles, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored me to health in three months, after my physician declared that an operation was absolutely necessary."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Eat What

You want of the food you need
Kodol will digest it.

You need a sufficient amount of good wholesome food and more than this you need to fully digest it. Else you can't gain strength, nor can you strengthen your stomach if it is weak.

You must eat in order to live and maintain strength. You must not diet, because the body requires that you eat a sufficient amount of food regularly.

But this food must be digested, and it must be digested thoroughly. When the stomach can't do it, you must take something that will help the stomach.

The proper way to do is to eat what you want, and let Kodol digest the food.

Nothing else can do this. When the stomach is weak it needs help; you must help it by giving it rest, and Kodol will do that.

Our Guarantee

Go to your druggist today, and purchase a dollar bottle, and if you can honestly say, that you did not receive any benefits from it, after using the entire bottle, the druggist will refund your money to you without question or delay.

We will pay the druggist the price of the bottle purchased by you. This offer applies to the large bottle only and to but one in a family.

We could not afford to make such an offer, unless we positively knew what Kodol will do for you. It would bankrupt us. The dollar bottle contains 2½ times as much as the fifty cent bottle.

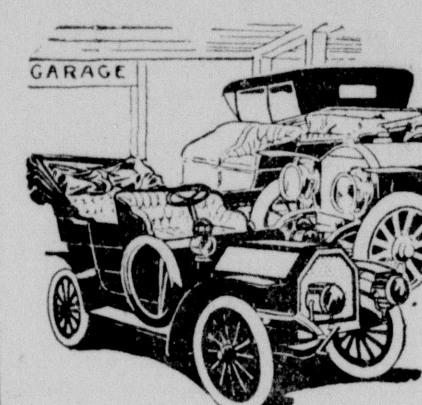

Kodol is made at the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago.

SPANIARD WELCOMED

First Naval Vessel Flying the Red and Yellow, Since the War, Enters Havana Harbor.

WHOLE TOWN GIVES GREETING

People Swarm to the Water Front and Wait for Hours.

Beautiful Incident of the Welcome in Which Doves Play the Leading Part—Some Cubans Still Hostile.

Havana, June 25.—The school ship Nautilus, the first Spanish naval vessel to enter a Cuban port since the relinquishment of Spanish sovereignty over the island, came into the harbor of Havana and was hailed with enthusiastic expressions of delight by the entire Spanish colony of the city, many thousands of Cubans joining in the demonstration. The Nautilus left Vera Cruz on June 1, but her arrival here was delayed by head winds and protracted calms. At 9 a. m. she was sighted from the Morro about twenty miles to the northward, becalmed and drifting helplessly in the gulf stream. A tug was sent to tow her in.

Whole Town Gives Her Welcome.

Salvos of pyrotechnic bombs signaled the sighting of the long expected schoolship, the population moving en masse to the water front to witness her arrival and awaiting there patiently for hours. A fleet of upwards of 100 gaily decorated yachts and launches, steamers and sailboats gathered in the mouth of the harbor to welcome the visitor and escort her to her anchorage. The roofs of the houses in the city, the Malecon seawall and the battlements of the Morro, Punta and Cabana were covered with spectators. Over the Morro flew the original Cuban flag which replaced the stars and stripes on the birth of the Cuban republic on May 20, 1902.

Pretty Feature of the Event.

As the Nautilus came abreast of the historic fortress, for centuries the emblem of Spanish domination, she broke out a single-starred flag at her mainmast, thundering forth a national salute. At the same moment was released from the committee steamer of the Spanish colony a flock consisting of scores of white doves. Attached to the tails of the doves were streamers of crimson and gold, which swung in the air as the birds flew hither and thither in the smoke of the canon. Some of them took refuge in the yard-arms and rigging of the ship.

Anchors Near the Wrecked Maine.

Surrounded by the escorting fleet the Nautilus slowly passed Cabana, whose batteries returned her salute, and proceeded to her anchorage in the harbor within a few hundred yards of the wreck of the Maine. Soon after she was anchored, the Nautilus was visited by representatives of all the Spanish patriotic societies, and the officials of the port. Captain Ryan represented Governor Magon, and Lieutenant Colonel Walz represented Major General Barry. Later Captain Lereau, of the schoolship, visited the Spanish minister. Today he will pay official calls on the provisional Governor and the commander of the United States forces.

Some Signs of Hostility.

While Cubans very generally seem to wish to do honor to the visitors, there appears in some quarters a feeling of hostility still lingering which may lead to unpleasant incidents. An indication of this was supplied recently when several Cuban lads were arrested charged with attempting to set fire to a Spanish triumphal arch set up in one of the streets.

BRUTAL FARMER'S DEATH

Whips His Little Girl, Knocks Down His Wife and Then Commits Suicide.

Dexter, Mo., June 25.—Believing he had killed his wife by a blow with his fist, N. N. Kline, a farmer, committed suicide sixteen miles east of here. When he went to the harvest field he directed his wife to send his six-year-old daughter with drinking water later in the day. The child failed to appear in the field.

Angered, Kline returned to the house and whipped his child. He then struck his wife with his fist, knocking her unconscious. Believing he had killed her he blew out his brains with a shotgun. His wife was not seriously hurt.

Hansborough Defeated?

St. Paul, Minn., June 25.—Specials to the Pioneer Press from North Dakota say that returns indicate that United States Senator Hansbrough has been defeated at the Republican primaries in that state and that C. B. Little, stalwart, and T. F. Marshall, insurgent, will be the new high men in the race.

All Trains Running Again.

St. Paul, Minn., June 25.—The Northern Pacific Railway company has given out the following announcement: After an interruption of from ten days to two weeks the Northern Pacific railway has resumed through trans-continental passenger and freight service, and all trains are now running as usual.

FEMINE VANITY.

The Jewish and Egyptian Women Were Arrant Coquettes.

Femine vanity is not the product of our effete civilization, but is as old as the history of the world. The Jewish and Egyptian women were arrant coquettes and well versed in the artifices of the toilet. When Jacobel learned of the approach of Jehu she sought to enhance her charms by painting her face and blackening her eyes with antimony.

Judith before she proceeded on her murderous mission to the tent of Holofernes bathed and perfumed her person with infinite care and wrapped herself in a splendid veil, in whose voluminous folds she concealed her cruel weapon. The Roman ladies of the empire dyed their hair blond, red and even blue, according to the caprice of the moment. They used cosmetics of every kind to excess and, like the Moorish women, augmented the luster of their eyes by means of antimony. They also pencilled their eyebrows with a bodkin blackened in the smoke of frankincense.

Wealthy women bathed in asses' milk and slept with their faces powdered with bread steeped in asses' milk in order to efface wrinkles. Even poets sang the praises of certain cosmetics, and Ovid wrote a laudatory poem on the merits of a preparation which, he asserted, preserved the freshness of the skin to old age. It was a curious mixture and was compounded of fly roots, yolks of eggs, hartshorn, gum benzoin, flour and honey, which were all boiled together.

Pliny mentions a species of face powder made of earth from the island of Chio dissolved in vinegar. Juvenal writes that the countenances of the Roman women were disfigured with this supposed beautifier. Among the Roman ladies it was the fashion to be very pale, as red cheeks were not deemed aristocratic. To attain this desirable pallor a quantity of chalk was rubbed on the face.

Many of the cosmetics in use in Greece and Rome have been discovered among ancient relics. Antimony, the oldest of them all, has been found in the utensils belonging to the stone age.

A MOTHER'S HELPER.

Girls Who Assist in the Small Household Duties.

Most of the little things that a girl can attend to are the tasks which her mother has in mind, but is too busy to carry out. She can see that the house plants are watered every day, and she can take a flower now and then for the table. She can plant a few pansy roots in one of her candy boxes, lined with oil paper, and set it on a small planter in the middle of the dining table for a centerpiece.

She can remove the spots that her mother is too busy to take out of the tablecloth between launderings by putting a few drops of hot or cold water, as the case may require, on them. She can keep a little parsley bed of her own, so that meats and vegetables can come to the table with a fresh garnish.

Keeping the rugs in the living room straight can be one of her tasks, also seeing that the window shades are all raised to the same height. When the furniture gets a slight scar she can rub it off with beeswax, a trick which keeps furniture fresh, but which her mother may not have time for.

She can see that the front door plate, the electric light switch and the door-knobs all over the house are kept polished. The smooches on mirrors can be rubbed off with a piece of crumpled tissue paper.

She can make a pretty wastebasket for the living room or any room that needs one out of strong cardboard covered with wall paper or chintz, and she can see that the younger children use it. Pieces of her cotton dresses she can make into covers for the sofa pillows which will be tossed about in the hammock and on the porch this summer.

Mothers and fathers like to see their daughters appear domestic in these days, when girls have so many outside interests, and any girl can charm her father by wearing a tiny white apron around the house. It needs be only a man's handkerchief with ribbon strings, but it will please her father and protect her dress. Wearing an apron is only one way of appearing freshly laundered and bright, which is the biggest part of being a real ornament to one's home.

HEALTH AND BEAUTY.

Warm salad oil will relieve earache. Always try to pass at least one hour a day in the open air.

Never let a child or infant sleep in the room with a sick person.

Never use on the face a wash rag which is not scalded each day.

Do not think that scrubbing will injure your complexion, for it will not. Cocoa butter will smooth the rough elbows, but it must be persistently used.

Quickly apply raw egg to a cut. It will allay the pain and quickly heal the wound.

If possible have children sleep in darkened rooms, as a light is bad both for eyes and nerves.

The Example of Birds.

Some birds are typical examples of human attributes. The dove symbolizes human attributes. The dove symbolizes human attributes. The dove symbolizes human attributes.

izes innocence, and the eagle represents majesty, but the robin redbreast teaches the best lesson of all, for he sings as joyously in the dark, dreary winter days, when the earth is frost bound and snow covered, as in pleasant summer days, when food is plentiful and life is merry. Thus in its humble way he teaches the lesson of patience and gratitude.—Home Notes.

Finding a Horseshoe.

There is a man who has a very poor idea of the horseshoe as a bringer of good luck.

"I found one in the road some time ago," he remarked. "As a matter of fact, another old gentleman found it also about the same time. We both wanted it, and there was a tussle for it."

"I got the shoe, a black eye, a torn finger from a rusty nail in the shoe and a summons for assault and battery."

"It wasn't a very good start, but I thought I'd give it a fair trial. Of course in nailing the shoe up above the front door I managed to smash my thumb and fall from the step ladder."

"Then I sat down and waited for the luck to begin. That shoe seemed to be endowed with the power to attract trouble in every form."

"Dunk, halflits, the landlord, measles and poverty were rarely out of the house, and my faith was shaken."

"Then one day, when the rate collector was standing on the top step, that shoe came down with a crash."

"Ah!" interrupted the sympathizer. "Luck at last!"

"Not a bit of it," sighed the unlucky one. "It missed him by a foot!"—London Answers.

The Way of Womankind.

Women are indefatigable in their analysis of conduct. A man accepts a white ray of light for what it is; a woman passes it through a prism and resolves it into its component rays. If I pass Mrs. A. in the street without saluting her she conjectures a dozen painful motives to account for my absentmindedness. If she passes me I conclude that she is short-sighted or absentminded.

If I say to my niece Molly that 2 and 2 make 4 she consents, but is unconvinced. But if I show her this little formula— $1\frac{1}{2} + \frac{1}{2} + 1\frac{1}{4} + \frac{1}{4} = 4$ —she is at once all alive with interest and sits down to work it out and proclaim its triumph that it is so. From a hard and dull statement of the fact it has become a problem and an intrigue, and here she is in her element.

That is the way of womankind in all relations to life.—Comments of Bagshot.

This Makes It Very Plain.

The meaning of the word "swastika" is "It is well," or good luck. The meaning of the symbol is more complex. Some folks trace it to the sun.

"The emblem is the sun in motion," argued Professor Max Muller. "A wheel with spokes was actually replaced by what we now call swastika. The swastika is, in fact, an abbreviated emblem of the solar wheel with spokes in it, the tire and the movement being indicated by the crampas. "It is the summary in a few lines of the whole work of creation," said Mme. Blavatsky; "is evolution, as one should say, from cosmogony down to anthropogeny, from the indivisible unknown to materialistic science, whose genesis is as unknown to that science as that of the all Deity itself. The swastika is found heading the religious symbols of every old nation."

A Tiny Death Dealer.

A most agonizing death is caused by an insect half the size of a pea—a small black spider. It lives in Peru, in South America, but a few specimens have reached Europe in shiploads of timber. Not long ago a dock laborer was unlucky enough to come upon one in the Victoria docks while unloading a bark. The tiny death dealer dropped upon the back of his hand and dug its fangs into his flesh. The bite itself was nothing, but as soon as the poison began to work the man fainted with pain. Soon afterward he came to and lived three days before the end came. This spider's venom scorches up the blood vessels and spreads through all the tissues, causing the most fearful agony a human being can have to bear. The worst of it is that the victim lives at least two days, enduring unthinkable anguish the whole time. This spider is luckily not common. It is known as the "specky," and when a man who knows what the bite means is bitten he generally blows out his brains.—London Chronicle.

Extreme Obedience.

The Youngs had unexpectedly dropped in on the Baileys just as dinner was about to be served. The hostess, considerably disturbed, called her little daughter Helen aside and explained that there would not be enough oysters to go around and added, "Now, you and I will just have some of the broth, and please do not make any fuss about it at the table."

Little Helen promised to remember and say nothing. But when the oysters were served Helen discovered a small oyster in her plate which had accidentally been ladled up with the broth. This puzzled the little girl, as she could not recall any instructions covering this contingency. After studying a few moments she dipped the oyster up with her spoon and, holding it up as high as she could, piped out, "Mamma, mamma, shouldn't Mrs. Young have this oyster too?"—Christian Register.

Greedy Little Salmon.

Little creatures may be very greedy and yet not be able to eat much because of their size, as was illustrated, for instance, in the case of a batch of about 20,000 little Chinook salmon that were hatched out at the New York aquarium.

These young fishes, each about two inches long, would eat so much that their little stomachs fairly stuck out, and yet to feed the whole 20,000 took daily only one pound of liver and a quart of herring roe, both chopped fine.

Change of Heart.

Parson Primrose: Why do you think it was out of place for your father to say grace?

Freddie—Because it was only a few minutes afterward that he was swearing over having to carve the turkey.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Argentina Needs Settlers.

Argentina still offers a splendid field for emigration. Only 60,000,000 acres are cultivated, and there remain 245, 600,000 of acres suitable for stock breeding, as well as huge areas of forest and of mineral-bearing mountains.

Due to Defects in Eyes.

At least 90 per cent. of all cases of neuragic headache are attributed by Dr. Toms, an American oculist, to defects in the eyes.

Poor Companion.

Polly is never long pleased with it self.—German Proverb.

It takes a strong minded woman to support the weight of a merry widow bonnet.

The desire to take Harry Thaw to Europe ought to be encouraged.

When people get so that they can fly from place to place policemen will have to be good wing shots.

If Anna Gould reads one-half the comments on her prince in the daily press she is hardly likely to feel like a merry widow.

A number of Southern clergymen want to separate prohibition from politics. That may be more or less hard to do, now that the politicians have found out what a good thing it is.

Winning an oratorical contest in a university seldom helps a young woman to win a husband.

KORNS ON HARD ROADS.
Joseph Korns, one of the veterans of Dixon, was at a national hard roads convention recently in Chicago which met the week of the national republican convention and which was a great thing in a great and good enterprise. Mr. Korns read a paper that received much applause, for Joseph is a philosopher. We hope to print the paper when we have room. His plan for building hard roads is simple. He would have congress appropriate one hundred million dollars each year until the United States would be well supplied with hard roads; say six hundred million dollars the limit. This would furnish employment for the tramps and cause a sufficient supply of money to protect us against any fear of hard times unless you are easily frightened.

Mr. Korns says: "Constant employment of labor at good wages produces in a country like ours general prosperity and cheerfulness," the true essence of all philosophy, as Neighbor Korns understands political economy. Korns suggested that his proposed increase would amount to forty dollars per capita and that would not hurt.

Some one will say that forty dollars is more than each citizen needs; but there are many who consider forty dollars no great affluence. Then there are lazy tramps who would impose on Korns' system by distributing the money direct to the people without any labor consideration, but that would be only to encourage shiftlessness and destroy the essence of Korns' financial scheme of setting lazy people at work. Korns' hard road scheme is a soft snap for road graders.

OGLE COUNTY CHAUTAUQUE WILL OPEN JULY 3RD
The plans for the Ogle County Chautauque which occurs at Oregon commencing July 3rd and continuing ten days, are now complete and everything in excellent condition.

The course is one that will prove both interesting and profitable to all who can possibly take advantage of it. It contains the best of talent including Billy Sunday, Helen Hurd Smith, Dora Eaton, Edwin Brush, Noah Beilburz, H. V. Adams, Senior Ramon Reyes Lala, Filipino writer and lecturer; Dixie Jubilee Singers, Fr. P. J. McCorry, W. F. L. Holcombe, Bill Bone, Col. Geo. W. Bain, Chicago Lyceum Ladies Quartet, Hon. E. W. Carmack, Ross Crane, Ralph Parlette, Prof. Lorado Taft the sculptor, Gabriel McGuire, and this splendid array of talent will be added very materially to in the way of variety by fine musical organizations of Oregon. The season tickets are placed at the low price of $2 each. This, coupled with the fact that hotels and a number of private boarding houses will make very modest rates for board, ought to draw many people from a distance desirous of enjoying a profitable outing at very reasonable expense. For booklet with program complete or other information, address H. G. Kauffman, president, or Z. A. Landers, Secretary, Oregon, Ill.

THE VITAL ISSUE.
The American Protective League is early in the field with a document entitled "The Vital Issue Before the American People." This is a reproduction of the great speech of Hon. Joseph W. Fordney, M. W. R. C. SALE SOON.
On account of the regular W. R. C. sale day coming on July 4th, it will be held next Saturday instead at Harush's store on Galena avenue. Let all of the A. B. C.'s contribute and any others who have not given heretofore.

CONDITION OF CROPS IN THE NORTHWEST

Mr. A. C. Warner has recently returned from a trip through Minnesota and the northern part of North Dakota. He states that the present outlook for crops in the territory through which he passed is remarkably fine. The great Red River valley, which for many years was the greatest wheat producer in this country, for the last four years has failed to raise a very large crop. This year the conditions in the valley are such as to encourage the belief that an old fashioned big harvest will again be reaped from the great bonanza farms.

The great district west of the valley also promises a big yield of grain. There have been abundant rains, but as yet no such excess as to bring danger of rust to growing grain. Few persons who have not visited this country can realize the immense area of new land that has been brought into cultivation within the last ten years in the North Dakota district west of the valley. The oat crop in that state is very large this year and will materially affect the prices of that product in the eastern markets, if the crop proves to be as large as it now promises.

The cheap lands of that country are now practically all occupied and will all soon be under cultivation, so that the country is already assuming the aspect of a thoroughly settled country, with no surplus lands.

Farmers all through the spring wheat district are cheerful over the outlook for good crops, and while lands are not changing hands rapidly yet prices are being held up firmly and there will doubtless be considerable advances in land values if the present crop meets expectations.

ROADS IMPROVES THROUGH USE OF CANAL

When questioned as to the present prospects for development on the canal in the way of transportation facilities, Maj. C. S. Riche, corps of U. S. army engineers said recently in an interview: "The use of the canal is to be had for the asking by as many transportation companies as care to organize and operate on its waters—competition is not prohibited. But there are no moves on foot at present toward the organization of companies on the lower canal at least."

"Efficient work is being done by the Sterling, Dixon and Rock Falls Packet company but it appears to be confining its operations to that section of the Illinois and Mississippi canal between Sterling and the Illinois river. It may some time in the future turn in this direction to look for tri-city trade."

He then stated that too much competition would kill the canal trade and appeared to be satisfied with the progress being made along transportation lines.

Turning to a discussion of the uses to which the canal could be profitably put, Maj. Riche said further: "As a highway for the conveyance of material for the improvement of the middle road states, for the most part in a wretched condition, the canal is unsurpassed."

For Road Improvement.
Some suggestions were then made which might be used to advantage by the highway commission, which is particularly active in road work at the present time, as follows: For an example of this transportation road improvement take the road between Geneseo and Sheffield, which is some distance from the canal. It is one of the worst examples of the 'bad road.' Gravel to be put on this road, however, could be conveyed cheaply over the canal to Geneseo and then could be unloaded at that point.

"If this improvement of roads by the utilization of the canal were taken up by the farmers the roads up and down the canal on each side for a radius of many miles could be brought to a desired modern and improved standard."

Saving in Grain.
"I learn from various sources that a much higher price is paid for the wheat and other grain in Peoria than is paid in Geneseo and other smaller canal points. There is another instance of saving to the farmer. The wheat can be shipped from the small points over the canal to Peoria so cheaply that subtracting the transportation charges, the farmer will receive a larger profit in the Peoria market than in the home market."

Major Riche spoke in favor of the erection of grain elevators along the canal for this purpose.

600 PEOPLE ATTEND THEATRE

SHOW FOR CHARITY WAS WELL PATRONIZED—PROGRAM PLEASANT.

Over 600 people attended the White Palace theatre yesterday, and thereby assisted the Hospital Charity club, to whom the management had offered a percentage of the sales, and for which performance the girls of the club had been busy selling tickets the past week. As a result of the success of the occasion the club has been enriched by a very satisfactory sum. The picture, The Blue and the Gray, is said by witnesses to have been one of the most elaborate and pleasing ever shown in Dixon, and many comments of approval were heard today. The management of the theatre this morning announced the best picture ever brought to Dixon for July 4th. It will be "Two Brothers of the G. A. R."

DEMENT
TOWN DOINGS

Dixon adds its tribute to the memory of Grover Cleveland.

There are some men in Dixon who resemble bees, and it's not because they are busy, either. Every time they unload anything on anyone that person is going to get stung.

That was the first real mix-up the street car company has had.

Lawrence Ritt came up from Sterling last evening and spent the evening with friends and relatives.

Haven't heard of any of the numerous candidates for senator opening any headquarters.

A Sterling man wanted to marry a prairieville girl yesterday, but he got his license in Whiteside county. Result: postponed wedding until the groom hurried to Dixon for a good one. Unkind pessimists will say that a man that don't know his own geography any better than that has no business getting spliced.

GOOD FOR YOUR "BLUES."

When you begin to think you have a hard time in life—

Just then is a good time to compare your condition with that of some who have a harder time than you, more sorrows than you, less prosperity than you.

Should you happen to be in the sort of mood described read a touching passage in the life history of a poor Milwaukee woman—read it anyway—this from "the short and simple annals of the poor."

Mrs. Mary Wiedig, widow, lost her only child, a little girl. She had no money to give the child a decent sepulcher. She went to the poor commissioner. And this is the sequel:

Mrs. Wiedig staggered up the path in the cemetery which led to the plot of ground where her husband was buried, bearing the little coffin which held the body of her little one. She took a spade she had put there the day before and began to dig. Poor woman! She was digging the grave of her only child—the last tie that held her to earth.

And as she worked she sobbed and cried. She called on the dead man under the ground to help her bear her sorrow till she could come to him.

One who passed through the cemetery heard the crying and went to the spot where the frail woman bent to her awful task.

She explained why she was digging the grave herself. She had no money to pay the sexton. "They would have buried her for me for nothing if I had let them put her grave over there in the potter's field. But she was such a little child, so little, and sometimes when I was obliged to leave her alone she was afraid of the dark. I wanted her to lie by her father's side so she would not be afraid. I told the poor commissioner how I felt, and he gave me this coffin. The woman who lives next door from me is coming out next Sunday to plant some vines."

And the agonized mother talked on, half wild with her grief and scarce knowing what she said, calling tenderly the name now of husband, now of child.

The man had a heart. He hurried to the sexton and gave him money to dig the child's grave and money to round the little mound and plant some simple flowers. And the woman cried, but this time the tears were sweet instead of bitter.

This story is not from the pages of Balzac.

Neither is it a fancy sketch. It is printed in a reliable newspaper, which gives full particulars concerning the woman's home and history.

Compare your disappointment and troubles and sorrows and heartaches with those of this miserable one.

You have not passed through hades.

Equal Rights in Nature.

A woman writer wants to know why it is that a man is beautiful only in his youth, and some one remarks that nature intended him to have equal rights with women to grow ugly as he grows older. It is not often, however, that men realize the fact.

Nature's Penalties Not Vindictive.
Nature's penalties are remedial—a means to our reformation, the natural consequences of action, not an end. Nor are they given because we deserve punishment. Man's penalties are often vindictive, founded on hate as though the man deserved penalties.

J. E. Ackert is spending the summer in Boston. He writes that he is having a fine time.

The program at the Star theatre tomorrow will be two beautiful feature films, the Blind Boy and the Poor Orphan, and a Bowery comedy turn by Lew Jack, the clog dancer and singer.

SOCIAL HAPPENINGS

FAST AND PROSPECTIVE

Middlers' Dance.

The Middlers will give a big dancing party in the Rosbrook hall Friday evening, July 3. Prestin's orchestra of Sterling will furnish the music.

Hutton-Leinbach.

Miss Edith Hutton of Palmyra and Henry Leinbach of Sterling were united in marriage at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the Prairieville church. Rev. Parvin, pastor of the Sterling Christian church, performing the ceremony.

There were over 150 guests present at the wedding, which was one of the largest ever held in Prairieville. The bride, who was gowned in white organdie, carried roses and was attended by her sisters, Lillian and Ethel, who wore pink silk. The groom was attended by his brother, John Leinbach. The flower girls were Mildred Rogers and Dorothy Harleman, and Mrs. Nellie Scott presided at the organ. The wedding march was "Heart Whispers."

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served in the church parlors. George Clark of Sterling serving as caterer. Mr. and Mrs. Leinbach left last evening for Chicago, where they will make a short visit, after which they will return to Sterling to make their future home.

The decorations of the church which were most artistic and beautiful, were under the supervision of Harry Waterman of this city.

Mrs. Leinbach is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hutton and is one of Palmyra's most popular young ladies. The groom is in business in Sterling and is an estimable young man. Those present from out of town at the wedding were Miss Freda Sickler of Moline and Mrs. William Rogers and daughter Mildred of Chicago.

Brookner-Cupp.

At 7:30 o'clock last evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Emma Brookner, 511 Peoria avenue Miss Mae A. Brookner and George R. Cupp were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. Rev. A. B. Whitcomb of the Episcopal church officiating. The ring ceremony was used, the couple kneeling on a white altar in the parlor before a clock which had been in the family for 162 years. White bells and graceful loops of white satin ribbon with oak leaves formed the decorations here. Miss Nina Keithly of Hillsboro, Illinois, a cousin of the bride, played Lohengrin's wedding march and during the ceremony played The Bridal Chorus from the Rose Maiden, and Cupid's Appeal, while Mrs. F. A. Botton sweetly sang "Melody of Love." At the close of the service Miss Keith played Mendelssohn's wedding march.

The ceremony was performed in the presence of the immediate relatives and friends, with a large reception following. The bride, very popular and always charming, looked beautiful in a gown of white silk mull trimmed with fillet lace and she carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley.

The wedding was one of the most noted events in society this year, the arrangements for which were made by Mesdames A. P. Armington and W. C. Dysart, the decorations being carried out under their supervision by Mrs. Carroll Hall, Mrs. Paul Brookner, Mrs. George Brookner and Misses Nina Keithly, Ruth Smith and Ada Bates.

The banquet following the wedding ceremony was served in a large tent on the lawn brilliantly lighted with electric lights and beautifully decorated with crimson ramblers. Mrs. Carroll Hall and Mrs. C. W. Evans presided here, assisted by Misses Ruth Smith and Lela Dysart.

Punch was served to the several hundred guests attending the reception from a punch table decorated with Virginia creeper, crimson ramblers and white bells beneath a large Japanese umbrella, the effect being most pleasing to the artistic eye. Misses Esther Dement, Dorothy Armington, Carmen Dement and Clara Armington served the punch.

The presents received by Mr. and Mrs. Cupp were many and costly, many pieces of silverware, cut glass and hand painted china being received.

The bride and groom left last evening for Sterling and left there today for a brief wedding trip through the west. They will be gone ten days and will visit at Davenport, Neb., Omaha and St. Paul.

Among the out of town guests in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. U. Cupp, Mr. and Mrs. A. Long, Lewis Petre, Haldane, Mr. and Mrs. John Cupp, Franklin Grove; Mr. and Mrs. John Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown, Rock Falls; Mrs. J. J. Rhoads and daughter, Mrs. E. C. Ticknor, of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Cupp will make their home at 511 Peoria avenue. They have both resided in Dixon all their lives and are popular young people.

Mrs. Mary A. Noble is entertaining this afternoon for Mrs. Upham.

Mrs. Frank Young of the Chicago road entertained a few friends last evening.

Mrs. E. C. Sickels will entertain at her home on Thursday afternoon, July 2nd, for Mrs. James D. Sickels, from three to five o'clock.

Mrs. Edwin E. Downs entertained a few friends at dinner this evening for Mrs. Clement C. Smith of Milwaukee, who is the guest of Miss Brinton.

Miss Bessie Crawford was happily surprised last evening when about fifteen fellow members of the Nachusa Sunday school surprised her at her home east of Nachusa. The evening was spent socially, and refreshments were served.

Lawn Social.

A lawn social was held at the St. James church south of town last evening for the church. Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Tippet of this city were present and enjoyed the hospitality of the St. James people.

Sterling Couple Weds.

Wednesday at high noon at St. Mary's church in Sterling Miss Catherine A. D'Arcy and Mr. Henry A. Boehm, two well known young people of that city, were united in marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Boehm are well known in Dixon.

Unique Club Dance.

Several Dixon young people will attend the dancing party to be given by the Unique club of Sterling, at Central park tomorrow evening. The Academy orchestra will furnish the music.

A party composed of the following young people, Misses Grace Martin, Vivian Glessner, Ingrid Jensen, Ruth York and Corrine Elchler, are spending a few days at Somers Inn, the cottage occupied by Dr. and Mrs. C. E. Smith at Assembly park.

Surprise Party.

A very pleasant surprise party was held last evening for Miss Nellie Blackburn, at her home. About fifty guests were present and she was presented with a handsome gold bracelet. The affair was in honor of her birthday anniversary.

Scramble Luncheon.

The Woman's Missionary society of the Presbyterian church will give a scramble luncheon tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock at the home of Dr. and Mrs. S. S. Cryor, 703 North Crawford avenue. All ladies of the church are invited. Dishes will be furnished. A dime collection will be taken to pay for the calendars. Following the luncheon a short program of music and talks on mission work in Alaska and South America will be given.

Brader-Russell.

Last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Brader, 613 North Ottawa avenue, Miss Anna L. Brader and Leo Clarence Russell were united in marriage at 8:30 o'clock. Rev. W. L. Rutherford performing the ceremony. Miss Belle Floto rendered Mendelssohn's wedding march and Lohengrin's at the close of the service. The bride was prettily gowned in white silk and carried white roses. The couple were unattended. The ceremony was performed under an arch of pink and white roses in the presence of about fifty friends and relatives. After the ceremony a wedding supper was served, all the decorations, which were very beautiful, being in pink and white. Mr. and Mrs. Russell will make their home on a farm north of town after a short wedding tour. They are both well known Dixon young people who are receiving the best wishes of a large number of friends.

Mrs. McKinstry and Mrs. Johnson entertained Mrs. Thos. Diller of Sterling and Mrs. H. Evans of Chicago at their summer cottage at Assembly park yesterday.

Miss Nellie Thomas entertained friends at luncheon yesterday.

Mrs. Theo. J. Fuller will entertain friends tomorrow with a launch ride and picnic up the river.

Trolley Party.

Mrs. Clement C. Smith, Mrs. E. E. Downs, Mrs. H. U. Bardwell and Miss Brinton enjoyed a ride to Sterling this morning over the S. D. & E.

The Knights and Ladies of Security will entertain tomorrow night with a dance after the business meeting.

Junior Club.

The Junior club will meet at the home of Miss Mae Glessner Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Those who do not know where her residence is are requested to call for Miss Henrietta Florscheutz at two o'clock.

Livingston-Spitzer.

A. L. Livingston of Johnson Creek, Wis., and Miss Mary E. Spitzer of Milford, Wis., were united in marriage last evening at the bride's home, Rev. S. S. Cryor of Dixon officiating. The wedding was a very pretty affair, there being about 150 guests present. The groom, Mr. Livingston, is an employee at the W. S. Leslie dry goods store and has many friends here, where he will bring his bride to reside. J. A. Dauntler and W. S. Leslie of Dixon attended the wedding.

Mrs. Minnie Bennett is visiting her son in Franklin Grove.

Theodore Trouth of Sterling was a visitor in this city this morning. Mrs. Charles Whipperman was in this city Wednesday from Sublette on business.

QUALITY

Perhaps you have noticed bargains are not continuously advertised in this store. But when quality and price are considered you will find that you get more value in this store than where bargains are always advertised. We have made a reputation for quality; a reputation worth too much to be subjected to misrepresentation. We don't advertise the best clothes in the world, but we sell the best clothes that wear and look well long after the so called bargain truck is worn out.

Mrs. G. O. Wendel will entertain with a picnic tomorrow afternoon at Lowell park.

Miss Ella Pratt will entertain a few friends with a boat ride and picnic tomorrow afternoon at Lowell park.

The Ladies Aid society of the M. E. church will meet on Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Mrs. John Rev. S. S. Cryor of Dixon officiating. The wedding was a very pretty affair, there being about 150 guests present. The groom, Mr. Livingston, is an employee at the W. S. IDENTITY OF THE DEAD

Chicago Institution That Seems to Think That a Matter of No Moment.

DAUGHTERS BURY A WOMAN

Only to Find Later That It Was Not Their Mother, Who Proves Alive--State Items.

Chicago, June 25.—A remarkable story is told by three daughters, who in mourning and grieving for their mother as dead, visited the Cook county hospital for incurables at Dunning and there accidentally ran across their mother among the patients, very much alive. Investigation by reporters disclosed a strange series of events in which the young women, acting upon notice from the officials at the Dunning institution that their mother was dead, had buried the wrong woman as their parent, with elaborate ceremonies.

Professor of Languages Needed.

Mrs. Catherine Podlesak, who is entered at the county institution as Catherine Bendeck, because when admitted the clerk could not understand Bohemian and put down the wrong name according to the allegation is the woman who was officially pronounced dead and officially buried, but who in fact is alive today and still a patient at the institution. After the funeral Mrs. Anna Dombek, Mrs. Antonio Fingl and Mrs. Marie Yokum, the daughters of Mrs. Podlesak-Bendeck, dressed in black, accompanied by their aunt, Mrs. Anna Divoka, went to visit the institution at Dunning to see some friends of their mother. They had barely entered the ward where their mother is a patient when her familiar voice attracted their attention.

Probable Identity of the Dead.

In the meantime Mrs. Stasie Chaloup, who lives at 485 West Eighteenth street, went to the institution to visit her mother, who was a patient there for more than a year. She could not find her and appealed to the officials. It was then declared by Superintendent White that it is possible that it was the body of Mrs. Anna Bohac, the mother of Mrs. Chaloup, that was buried. It then became necessary to exhume the body buried as that of Mrs. Podlesak-Bendeck at the Bohemian National cemetery so that it could be properly identified as the body of Mrs. Anna Bohac.

THAT LATEST MINING LAW

Conference About It Between Gov. Deneen and Representatives of the Coal Miners.

Springfield, Ill., June 25.—Representatives of the United Mine Workers of the state and the coal operators were in conference with Gov. Deneen in regard to the administration of the law affecting miners which was passed in the closing hours of the late general assembly and will go into effect July 1. The act provides that circuit judges appoint boards of examiners for miners in certain counties and that miners must pass satisfactory tests before they can work in the mines. President John H. Lewis, of the United Mine Workers of America, was at the conference. Governor Deneen was of the opinion that the state's attorneys should not begin prosecutions before the mining boards had finished examinations and issued licenses.

Only Cold Water for Jurors.

Danville, Ill., June 25.—During a recess of a trial in the circuit court here a majority of the jurors, excused for five minutes, made a break for the open and disappeared in the direction of a saloon. When the jurors returned Judge Craig admonished them that they were not to touch intoxicating liquors while serving as jurors, and instructed the bailiff to see to it that the men drank nothing but water.

Just Back from Mexico.

Bellefonte, Ill., June 25.—Tom O'Connor, formerly a clerk for the American Express company at East St. Louis, is lodged in jail here awaiting trial on a charge of embezzling $6,000 from the express company a year ago. On the discovery of the shortage, O'Connor fled to Mexico, where he engaged in the automobile business and from whence he was extradited.

Mayor Shumway's Ambition.

Galesburg, Ill., June 25.—Mayor George Shumway, of this city, has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor and will immediately undertake an aggressive campaign throughout the state. He has appointed Andrew O. Lindstrom, of Galesburg, as his manager.

Chicago Flags Half-Masted.

Chicago, June 25.—Mayor Buse has issued a proclamation on the death of Grover Cleveland, directing that all flags on municipal buildings in Chicago be swung at half mast for thirty days as a mark of respect to the ex-president.

New Fire Chief Appointed.

Elgin, Ill., June 25.—William Haible has been appointed chief of the Elgin fire department, to succeed David Sharp, who recently lost his life by accident.

CUMMINS IN CONTROL

Iowa "Progressive" Republicans Have the Bulge in the State Convention.

THEY USE THEIR POWER WISELY

Allison and Dolliver and the National Ticket Indorsed.

Only Discordant Note Is When a "Stand-Patter" Lets Loose—Hawkeye Democrats Are in Council.

Waterloo, Ia., June 25.—While the "progressives" were in control of the Republican state convention they did not use their control with any vindictiveness, but in reasonable good temper. They adopted a state platform giving enthusiastic endorsement to Governor Cummins and the "progressive" legislation upon railroad and corporation questions, but they also gave warm endorsement to the services of the Iowa delegation in congress, and especially to Senator Allison, and a pledge for his re-election by the next legislature. The "progressives" secured control of the new state campaign committee, controlling it by a majority of one. The convention nominated Judges Scott M. Ladd and Elias M. Weaver to succeed themselves on the supreme bench, and also went through the formality of approving the nominations for state officers made in recent primaries.

Hart Raised a Commotion.

The only display of feeling bordering on animosity came during the speech of Temporary Chairman Captain W. S. Hart, a radical "stand-patter," who allowed his views to creep into his speech. Many times he was interrupted by jeers and cries of derision. The convention gave loud applause to the mention of the names of Allison and Dolliver, and it gave a demonstration of some minutes when Governor Cummins responded to calls for a short speech. Governor Cummins spoke in good spirit, and pledged himself to work for Republican success.

Points of the Platform.

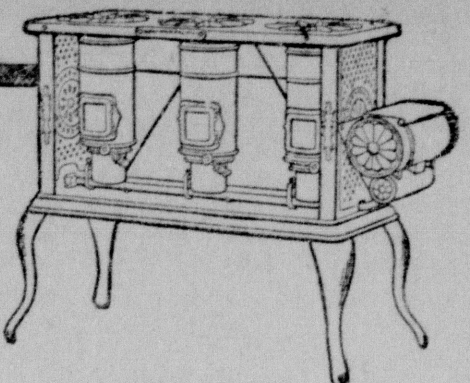

The platform adopted, in addition to commending legislation for 2-cent fares, abolition of the railway pass, prohibiting corporation contributions to campaign funds, and compelling publicity for campaign expenditures, pledges loyal support to Taft and Sherman, national nominees, and the national platform.

Notes the Death of Cleveland.

The convention also adopted the following resolution with respect to the death of Grover Cleveland: "Resolved, That this convention has learned with regret of the death of ex-President Cleveland, an executive whose patriotism, firmness and courage challenged the admiration of his fellow countrymen of all parties, and honored American manhood. It extends its sympathy to his bereaved family, and to the nation he loved and served with fidelity and sincerity."

Do You Remember? And the other fishing days when you got up before dawn and stole downstairs to the dim kitchen—a drink of milk, a doughnut and a triangle of pie, then you stole out quietly to the barn and got the spading fork; then the search, armed with fork and tomato can, under the broad leaves of the rhubarb bed, back of the henhouse and down by the cow barn until you had enough worms for the day's sport. Then of course you left the fork sticking in the ground—you never would learn to put things away—and started off, through the garden and orchard, stopping long enough for a handful of currants and a pocketful of sopsavines—over the pasture bars, eating a handful of huckleberries or low bush blackberries here and there; into the wood road—very dark and still in the dawn—where you stepped along very quietly so as not to disturb the bears (you knew perfectly well there were no bears, but you rather enjoyed the creepy sensation); then out through the deep wet meadow grass to the river, where the sun was now beginning to burn away the wisps of mist and the red winged blackbirds were making a tremendous fuss over their house-keeping. You reached the river bank at the point hole or the big rock or the old willow (of course you know the exact place), and then you started fishing—Atlantic.

HOUSEHOLD NOTES.

Boil six peach kernels in a quart of milk to be used for custard. It will improve the flavor.

In washing eern or Arabian curtains rinse them in water which has been colored with coffee and add a little coffee to the starch.

Candles will burn slowly and steadily through the evening if they are kept on the ice all day. Save the candle ends, melt, add an equal quantity of turpentine, and you will have a good polish for floors and oilcloth.

Peanut butter is made by macerating fresh browned peanuts to a fine pulp. They must be run through a chopping machine, or if finely crushed can be run through a coffee mill. The nuts are then mixed with enough butter so that the mixture can be spread on bread.

For Study of Birds.

An educational feature of the park in Springfield, Mass., is the bird display in aviaries, ponds and other places, the object being to provide opportunity for the children to study the habits of the little brothers of the air at close range.

CASE AFTER CASE

There Are Plenty More Like This in Dixon.

Scores of Dixon people can tell you about Doan's Kidney Pills. Many a happy citizen makes a public statement of his experience. Here is a case of it. What better proof of merit can be had than such endorsement?

George Bennett of 511 First St., Dixon, Ill., says: "For about ten years I was troubled with a very weak back which bothered me mostly in the mornings when I got out of bed. I consulted my physician who told me I had kidney troubles and gave me medicines and plasters. The pains and aches across my back and loins kept getting worse instead of better until I was in a very bad condition, being unable to lift anything or sleep at night. An acquaintance advised me to get Doan's Kidney Pills at Leake Bros' drug store, which I did. I took them according to directions and can conscientiously say that they cured me. I can recommend them highly to others troubled as I was."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., Sole agents for the United States.

HE SINKS TO REST

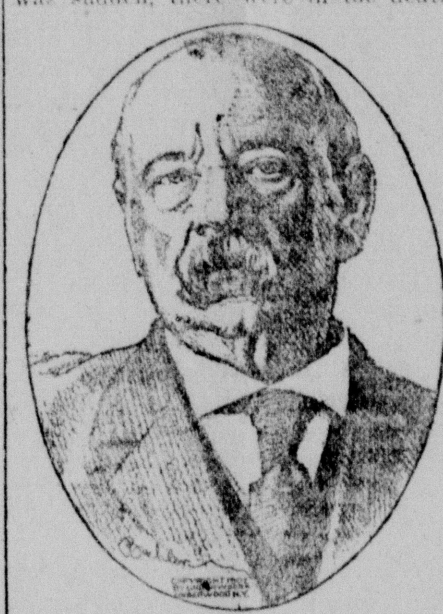

With All His Country's Wishes Blest, Grover Cleveland Sleeps.

STROKE OF DEATH IS SUDDEN

Though Long Ill His Passing Is a Shock to All the People, Who Honored Him.

End Begins Tuesday Eve and Comes Wednesday Morn, His Devoted Wife at His Side—Funeral Tomorrow.

Princeton, N. J., June 25.—Grover Cleveland, twice president of the United States, died at 8:40 a. m. yesterday at his home, "Westland," in this quiet college town where he had lived since his retirement as the nation's chief executive, almost twelve years ago. When death came, which was sudden, there were in the death chamber Mrs. Cleveland, Dr. Joseph D. Bryant, of New York, Cleveland's family physician and personal friend; Dr. George R. Lockwood, also of New York, and Dr. John M. Carnehan, of Princeton. An official statement given out and signed by the three physicians, gave heart trouble, superinduced by stomach and kidney ailments of long standing as the cause of death.

GROVER CLEVELAND.

Had Been Ill for Two Years.

While Cleveland had been in poor health for the last two years and had lost a hundred pounds in weight, his death came unexpectedly. Some three weeks ago he was brought home from Lakewood, where his condition for a time was such that the hotel at which he was staying was kept open after its regular season because he was too ill to be moved. But when Cleveland was brought back to Princeton he showed signs of improvement and actually gained five pounds in weight.

End Began Last Tuesday.

Although confined to his room continuously after his return to Princeton it was not until Tuesday that his condition aroused uneasiness on the part of Mrs. Cleveland. Undoubtedly affected by the heat he showed signs of failure, and Mrs. Cleveland telephoned to Dr. Bryant, who came over from New York. Dr. Lockwood followed Dr. Bryant from New York, and when they reached here, Dr. Carnehan, who had been Cleveland's local physician since the former president came to Princeton, was also called in. During Tuesday evening Cleveland seemed to rally.

Last Words Were Inaudible.

But he became worse during the night, and Mrs. Cleveland was called to the bedside of her husband. The distinguished patient sank into unconsciousness, from which he recovered at times only to suffer a relapse. This continued throughout the night and early this morning. The last time he became unconscious was about two hours before he died. Death was peaceful. Just before he died Cleveland sought to say something, but his words were inaudible.

FUNERAL WILL BE TO-MORROW

Will Be Private as Possible—President to Attend.

The news of Cleveland's death came as a sudden shock to the people of Princeton, as it did to the people of the rest of the world. Everybody in Princeton knew he was sick, but none seemed to think the end was so near. As the news spread about the university, flags were placed at half mast and everybody was disposed to stop and talk and express regrets and extol his virtues. Many intimate friends of the family, and many others not so close, called at the Cleveland home. Few were able to see Mrs. Cleveland, and all of them left cards. The visitors—newspaper men, photographers and others—became so numerous that the police authorities placed a policeman on guard at the Cleveland home and no one but intimate friends and those in charge of the funeral arrangements were permitted to approach the house.

It was not until late in the day that messages of condolence began to come in from all parts of the world. One of the first was from President Roosevelt, who will attend the funeral, which will be held tomorrow afternoon, and which in deference to Mrs. Cleveland's wishes will be as private as possible. The body will be buried in the Princeton cemetery, in the family plot where the remains of Ruth, the eldest of the Cleveland children, whose death was a sad blow to her father.

Among those who telegraphed or enabled their condolences were Vice President Fairbanks; Governor Hughes, of New York; Judge Altam R. Parker, Governor Fort; Whitelaw Reid, United States ambassador to Great Britain; Admiral Robley D. Evans; Judge George Gray; Mayor George R. McClellan, of New York; Governor Hoke Smith, of Georgia; Richard Olney, Judge Landis, of Chicago; and General Stewart L. Woodford, New York.

PRESIDENT'S PLANS CHANGED

Abandons His Trip to New London—Orders National Honors.

Oyster Bay, June 25.—News of the death of ex-President Grover Cleveland was communicated to President Roosevelt at his summer home here and caused radical changes in the President's plans for the immediate future. Roosevelt was deeply shocked at the tidings, and immediately telegraphed to Mrs. Cleveland tendering his sympathy and that of Mrs. Roosevelt and asking to be notified, at Mrs. Cleveland's earliest convenience, of the time of the late president's funeral. Roosevelt made it known immediately on receipt of the news of Cleveland's death that he would abandon his proposed trip to New London, Conn., to witness the Harvard-Yale boat races. He also at once prepared and subsequently caused to be issued a proclamation to the people of the country, ordering the dead statesman, ordering all government flags at half mast for thirty days, and directing that military and naval honors be accorded the late president on the day of the funeral. He and Mrs. Roosevelt will attend the funeral.

Washington, June 25.—Appropriate honors will be paid to the memory of ex-President Cleveland by all branches of the government. Immediately upon receipt of the president's proclamation formally announcing Cleveland's death steps were taken to carry out the provisions of the executive proclamation. All army posts and stations and all commanders-in-chief of fleets in the navy, captains of detached ships and navy yards and naval stations were ordered to fly the national colors at half mast for thirty days. The flags on the executive departments were all half-masted.

SHADOW OF DEATH AT YALE

Taft Feelingly Refers to the Ex-President's Demise.

New Haven, Conn., June 25.—News of the death of ex-President Grover Cleveland threw a shadow of genuine sorrow into the commencement festivities at Yale. When Secretary Taft was informed of the demise of Cleveland, he expressed his deep regret at his death and said: "President Cleveland was one of the very great men of the country. His death is a distinct loss to the American people." Later in the day, at the commencement dinner, the secretary paid a beautiful and eloquent tribute to the memory of the dead ex-president.

The secretary said: "I join in expression of sorrow—deep sorrow—at the death of Grover Cleveland. He was a great man and a great president. He had the highest civic ideals; he had a rugged honesty; he had a high courage that makes him now happy in his death, as he leaves this life revered, respected and loved by all his countrymen, and there is no more fitting place to pronounce a eulogy on him than in a meeting of Yale men actuated and inspired with Yale spirit."

WM. J. BRYAN'S TRIBUTE.

What He Will Say in The Commencement Next Week.

Lincoln, Neb., June 25.—The following tribute to ex-President Cleveland was written by W. J. Bryan, and will appear in next week's issue of his paper: "The death of ex-President Grover Cleveland brings to a sudden end the phenomenal career of one of the strongest characters known to the political world during the present generation. Like every commanding figure he had zealous supporters and earnest opponents, but those who differed from him were as ready as his warmest friends to concede to him the possession of elements of leadership to an extraordinary degree."

"He was deliberate in action, firm in conviction, and ever ready to accept responsibility for what he did. Few men have exerted a more positive influence upon those associated with them. We are not far enough from the period in which his work was done to measure accurately his place in history, but the qualities which made him great are a part of the nation's heritage and universal sorrow is felt at his death."

Harvard Gets Her Revenge.

New London, Conn., June 25.—In return for his defeat at baseball by Yale on Tuesday Harvard is rejoicing over two victories on the water, her freshmen fours and graduates having each taken a race from their Yale opponents at the annual regatta. Today the "varsity eights"—the great race—will be rowed.

Oil Property Worth $500,000 Burns

Pittsburg, June 25.—Over 100,000 barrels of oil consumed by fire, three valuable oil refineries destroyed and an estimated loss of about $500,000, are the results of electric strikes which passed over western and northern Pennsylvania.

S.S.S. FOR
S.S.S. BAD BLOOD

When bad blood is caused from an infection of the circulation by the virus of Contagious Blood Poison, it usually shows in the form of ulcerated mouth and throat, copper-colored spots on the body, swollen glands in the groin, falling hair, sores and ulcers, etc. These general symptoms, affecting all parts of the body, show how deeply poisoned the blood becomes, and emphasizes the dangerous character of the trouble. If allowed to remain in the system the disease will finally wreck the health and break down the strongest constitution. No medicine can cure Contagious Blood Poison which does not rid the circulation of every particle of the virus. S. S. S. is the one real and certain cure; it goes down to the very bottom of the trouble, and by removing every trace of the poison, and adding rich, healthful qualities to the blood, forever cures this powerful disorder. S. S. S. is the most reliable of all blood purifiers, and its concentrated ingredients of healthful vegetable extracts and juices especially adapt it to curing this insidious trouble. Write for our home treatment book, which is a valuable aid in the treatment of the different stages of the disease, and ask for any special medical advice you wish. No charge for either.

GENTLEMEN:

We have this day shipped you car of our B. & M. flour. This flour is made from selected hard winter Turkey wheat, and you can guarantee every sack. We claim for this flour, that it will make sweeter bread and more of it, than any flour we know of in your market.

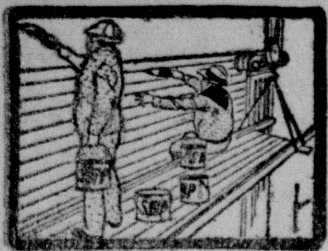

Please say to your trader, if it is not satisfactory, to return it and you will refund them their money.

Yours respectfully,
KEARNEY FLOUR

ECCENTRIC STAMPS.

Blunders That Bring Joy to the Hearts of Philatelists.

"The fascination of stamp collecting," said a postal official, "lies in the rare 'finds' which are continually made and the curious points which sometimes make a stamp of the face value of a few pence worth hundreds of pounds. For instance, the twopence blue Mauritius stamp which the Prince of Wales bought at a public auction for £1,450 was unique in one respect—the proper wording on it, 'Post Paid Mauritius,' had by a strange error been altered to 'Post Office Mauritius.'"

"Another stamp which has been priced at several hundred pounds is valuable for the mere misspelling of a single word. It is a British Guiana issue worth just 1 cent, but it is sought after by all collectors because the word 'Patinusque' figures on it instead of 'Petimusque.'"

"Again, a one penny Cape of Good Hope stamp changed hands the other day for nearly £200 simply because instead of being red, as are all the others of this issue, its color was blue. 'Some years ago in Western Australia a few stamps were printed with the figure of a swan upside down upon them. When the mistake was detected the issue was hastily destroyed. Several specimens had escaped, and one of them has been sold for £400.'—London Tit Bits.

THE SORROWFUL TREE.

Its Flowers Open at Night and Close With the Dawn of Day.

There is a tree in Persia to which the name "the sorrowful tree" is given, perhaps because it blossoms only in the evening. When the first star appears in the heavens the first bud of the sorrowful tree opens, and as the shades of night advance and the stars thickly stud the sky the buds continue gradually opening until the whole tree looks like one immense white flower. On the approach of dawn, when the brilliancy of the stars gradually fades in the light of day, the sorrowful tree closes its flowers, and ere the sun is fully risen not a single blossom is visible. A sheet of flower dust as white as snow covers the ground around the foot of the tree, which seems blighted and withered during the day, while, however, it is actively preparing for the next nocturnal festival. The fragrance of the blossoms is like that of the evening primrose.

If the tree is cut down close to the roots a new plant shoots up and attains maturity in an incredibly short time.

In the vicinity of this singular tree there usually grows another which is almost an exact counterpart of the sorrowful tree, but less beautiful, and, strange to say, it blooms only in the daytime.

Strong Rooms.

The Bank of England's strong room is one of the largest in the world. The foundation, sixty-six feet below the street level, is a bed of concrete twenty feet thick. Above this is a lake seven feet deep, and above that thick plates of iron specially manufactured to resist both skill and force. Any one attempting an entrance from above would find a similar bed of concrete, a similar lake and similar plates of iron. The walls are impenetrable, while the doors are one foot thick, weigh four tons each and are made absolutely undrillable.

The Imperial Ottoman bank, Constantinople, had a marvelous steel fort built upon a water bearing rock, and on top of the rock foundation is a four foot bed of concrete. The height is over thirty-six feet, length forty-six feet and width twenty-four. The steel walls are surrounded by masonry and concrete six feet thick throughout, while the whole comprises nearly thirty tons of steel.

Circulation of the Blood.

The idea of some sort of movement of the blood in man and the lower animals was possessed by Aristotle and other Greeks and by the physicians of the Alexandrian school as well as by the doctors and surgeons of the middle ages. In fact, even the village barbers knew of such movement. But no one, not even the wisest of men, had any conception of a continuous stream returning to its source—a circulation in the true sense of the word—or of the functions of the heart as the motor power of the movement of the blood until it was demonstrated by Harvey in 1628.

The "Letters of Junius."

The vexed question of the real authorship of the "Letters of Junius" has never been positively settled. Mr. Chubb's learned work to show that Sir Philip Francis was the author of the famous letters, while a strong production, falls of absolute proof. The attempt was made to prove that Thomas Paine wrote the letters, but that, too, failed to convince. The question is still a mystery, though the balance of the evidence is in favor of Sir Philip Francis.

Dad Gets Sarcastic.

"Physical culture, father, is perfectly lovely. To develop the arms I grasp this rod by one end and move it slowly from right to left."

"Well, well!" exclaimed her father. "What won't science discover? If that rod had straw at the other end you'd be sweeping."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Enough Said---It Stands the Racket.

Mr. R. A. RODESCH, Dixon, Ill.

DEAR SIR:

It is now a year since you put one of the "RODESCH" $8 note players in the piano in our Club Rooms, and it is absolutely satisfactory in every way.

This player has probably had more and harder use, as well as considerable abuse, in this length of time, than it would have in the ordinary family in twelve or fifteen years.

We have over Two Hundred and Fifty (250) members and all have access to it and a large percentage have learned to operate it without instruction. This certainly speaks well for its simplicity and durability, and the player itself can best speak for its own musical superiority.

Very Truly Yours,

WM. B. McMAHAN, Ex-alted Ruler.

Dixon, Ill., April 10, 1908.
